

BAND IN ABILENE FOR CONTEST

Says Mr. Landrum of the Dallas News:

San Jacinto Day

Texans celebrate to day the defeat of a paternal and bureaucratic and centralized government. The founders of Texas as we know it now did not realize that security is best obtained by putting power into the hands of El Presidente. They were ignorant about that—unless their descendants are mistaken now.

Liberty hadn't been debunked in 1836. It was then a fighting word. And, oh, how they fought!

But nowadays, we are told, a man must eat.

Merely Greed for Land

If you like, of course, you may regard San Jacinto as merely a struggle between a psychopathic "Napoleon of the West," with his straggling swaggering troops on the one hand, and "Big Drunk" Houston and his disorderly, insubordinate mob of renegades, ne'er-do-wells and land-grabbers on the other.

There are whole schools of talkers in whose brains such maggots of defamation work. Library shelves are full of books that proceed on that theory, not only as to San Jacinto Day, but as to every other day where the hearts of men are lifted up by the memory of great deeds done and rare sacrifices poured out upon the altars of high endeavor.

Let the maggots work. Never yet has God found a noble use for a man who could not understand nobility. We need not let them trouble us over-much now.

The Sons of Freedom

It is worth while to stop today and remember that on this day men bared their breasts to death because they believed that death was sweeter than life in a land from which freedom had fled.

If there be in the land made sacred by that bold belief, if there be in this goodly land those who scoff at such sentiments, blush for them, seeing that they have lost the grace to blush for themselves. Blush for them and close up the ranks made the less for their desertion.

The rallying call to sons of freedom still sounds. Liberty is still in danger. Independence, set up in the face of fire and sword, proclaimed under the shadow of the executioner's decree and defended on scorched and bloody ground, yet stands because freedom upholds it steadfastly as in other days.

Strength of Texas

It is a poor sight to see delegations wending their way to Austin and to Washington with tin cups in hand and blue goggles duly donned. Men and women of any race and tra-

VETERANS FOREIGN WARS ELECT HERE

(All except the Senior and Junior Vice Commanders and Chaplain were re-elected.)

The post is looking forward to a very successful year and feels that it has ample reason for being proud of the community service project it has undertaken in organizing a bicycle safety club for the boys and girls of the city. This move has been started not to strengthen the treasury of the organization, nor to place it in the lime-light, but with a sincere desire to be of service to the community. The officers and members are grateful for the many favorable comments received.

Man Who Sawed Way Out of Jail Here Arrested at Mexia

Bill Beebe who escaped from the Milam county jail last August when he sawed his way out was arrested near Mexia late Monday night and placed in jail at Goresbeck, Sheriff Kennedy said Tuesday morning after having been notified of Beebe's arrest by the deputy sheriff of Groesbeck.

Beebe was indicted by a grand jury here last July for the theft of three head of cattle from cattlemen at Maysfield and made his escape shortly afterward.

The Herald mails out 400 extra copies this week to reach every box holder in the routes out of Cameron. The occasion is the Burke Fifth Anniversary Sale Saturday and Monday. This event is a big break for other advertisers as well.

Heading Cameron's store of commercial interest this week is the Burke's 5c to $1 Store, which on May 1, will observe its fifth anniversary as one of the leading business industries of this city.

Five years ago, on May 1, 1934, Ray Burke who had been employed with Dube & Ayres in this city for sixteen years, opened his own store for business. The progress and success of this business is a story of hard work and sheer determination. Mr. Burke said that in order to make

CRUSADES FOR COTTON

She's 19-year old Alice Hall, the "Maid of Cotton," flying ambassador of the National Cotton Council. In major cities from coast to coast she is spreading the story of National Cotton Week and the Cotton Carnival. Outfitted with an ultra-smart wardrobe of all-cotton materials, she is modelling cotton garments at cotton fashion shows, talking cotton on the stage and over the air, making personal calls and appearances in 22 cities plus the New York and San Francisco world fairs. She will return to her home in Memphis for the opening of the South's great cotton party there on May 9. Next to cotton she is devoted to flying and amateur theatricals.

Says Statement That McDonald and Wife Estranged is False

R. W. Wilson, father of Mrs. J. H. McDonald, charged as false and without foundation the statement that his daughter had been estranged at any time from her husband who was found shot on April 15.

In discussing the lamentable death of his son in law, Mr. Wilson said that at no time had the relationship between Mr. McDonald and his wife been disturbed and pointed out that just prior to his death the family had given every evidence of the love and affection that had characterized their relationships over a period of years.

Minor errors were made in connection with the finding of the body by his brother, Ted McDonald of North Elm who requested a correction and said that when he discovered the body of his brother that it was not over the wheel of the truck but on the right hand side of the seat and there were blood stains on the running board on the right side of the truck and also stains on the inside of the right hand side of the truck. Mr. McDonald said the gun was lying on the floor of the truck. There were only small blood stains on the left side of the seat. The truck was parked midway between the south and east entrance of the Cameron Hotel.

Mr. McDonald requested a correction in the list of survivors. A machine error resulted in the loss of a line in the article in which the names of survivors were missing. The correct list of survivors is as follows:

His widow and one son; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John McDonald of Yarrington, four brothers, W. C. and Eugene McDonald of Yarrington; Ted of North Elm and Dwight of Ben Arnold; five sisters, Mrs. Willard Chapman of San Gabriel, Mrs. Carl Phipps of Cameron, Mrs. Arthur Chapman of Stamford, Mrs. Edward Taylor of Oklahoma City and Mrs. Frank Huegater of South Elm.

FINE STRAWBERRIES RAISED IN CITY

Raising strawberries may be a difficult job for some but for W. E. Kuehl it is as Joe Brown would say a "mere nothing."

Mr. Kuehl brought some strawberries to the office Wednesday morning, the like of which has not been seen in Cameron. They are the Klondike variety and appeared to be two and a half to three inches in circumference and a very fine color. Mr. Kuehl has a half acre of these strawberries and supplies many families in Cameron. The editor was sorely disappointed when Mr. Kuehl walked out of the office with this fine basket of strawberries.

Burglar Frightened When Alarm Sounds

The sounding of a burglar alarm frightened a burglar away from the Tom Hightower store at Silver City on Monday night. Two bottles of soda water were found on the ground outside the building.

He entered the store by the use of a crow bar which was also left behind. Deputy Sheriff, Clarence McCall called to the scene conducted an investigation and found nothing missing except the two bottles of soda water. A number of pennies left in the cash drawer had not been touched. Officers said there were foot prints near the building.

Finger prints on the two bottles of soda water found on the outside of the building are being photographed and sent to Austin for classification.

Child Killed When Auto Quits Road

Billy Joe Lamb, two and one half year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Willie Lamb of Rockdale was instantly killed at 8:30 Wednesday morning when the car in which he was riding with his mother and her employer, J. C. Wallace of Minerva, left the highway and overturned two miles west of Rockdale.

The party was enroute to the Crystal Plant at Thorndale when the accident occurred. The car was overturned when it struck loose gravel while negotiating a curve in the road.

Willie Lamb, father of the child, is employed by the plant as a truck driver and Mrs. Lamb is secretary to Mr. Wallace.

It was said here Thursday that Mr. Wallace suffered considerable injury but will recover. The child was badly mangled and the car almost totally destroyed.

Story of Finding Gold Bullion Bars Told Here

"The gold at the end of the rainbow" was found in Caldwell last week so we have been hearing from various sources for several days, but no one wants to be quoted as to the reliability of this information.

It has been said that bars of gold bullion, many of them, weighing approximately seven and a half pounds each have been found by a group who have been prospecting for gold on the strength of a tradition that the metal had been buried there by Mexicans many decades ago. Some informers even go so far as to say they saw the gold bars and that samples have been sent to Washington for examination and classification.

The gold is supposed to have been found on what used to be known as the Tenoxtitlan colony in Burtleson county. Tenoxtitlan was founded by the Mexican government in 1830 but lost its identity after the revolution. The colony is located along the old San Antonio trail making the theory of buried gold even more plausible.

Lions Tell Students Value Achievement Attendance Plaque Given School at Chapel Exercises

"Ancient statesman of Sparta gave to their youth the famous Code of Youth admonishing them to clean living and honorable conduct with an appeal for a pure and unadulterated race of men and a desire to leave their city a better place in which to live for having been a Spartan," Oxsheer Smith told the youth of Cameron at the Chapel exercises Wednesday sponsored by the Lions Club. The Spartans loved achievement, they honored it, and made a virtue of it," declared Mr. Smith.

The speaker then gave Yoe High students incidents of his recent visit to Europe in which he related events at Eaton College. "Any young man who was to be a student at Eaton College must register for his education on the day of his birth. One king was compelled to wait for a year before getting his own son in Eaton because he failed to register him at the college on the day of his birth," said Mr. Smith. "Eaton had many traditions and customs that made for discipline and splendid achievement. Among the institutions at Eaton is the Hall of Fame where the names of the great and distinguished men in history have been written on the walls.

"Written there is the name of Gladstone and the names of Gladstones sons. Illustrious were the men whose names are inscribed. They achieved in the world. The Lions Club of Cameron is presenting to the Board of Trustees this beautiful bronze plaque to be placed in the halls of

Five Tough Guys
Star in Oklahoma
Kid at Cameron
Theatre Sunday

An action-packed drama of America's great westward surge, "The Oklahoma Kid," with James Cagney as the title character, has been scheduled as the feature attraction at the Cameron Theatre starting Sunday. A stirring cavalcade of the opening of the great southwest, it is one of the year's largest productions, and numbers over 3,000 people in its huge outdoor scenes, besides the featured cast which includes Humphrey Bogart, Rosemary Lane and many other noted players.

Though he wears the sombrero, buckskin jacket and high-heeled riding boots of the frontier gun-fighter of the nineteenth century, though he carries a brace of old Colt six-shooters on his hips instead of a modern automatic in a shoulder holster, though he discloses that he is a real hell-for-leather horseman, Cagney is fundamentally the same sort of fellow as thrilled audiences in such memorable productions as "Angels With Dirty Faces," "G-Men" and "Public Enemy."

In two of the productions mentioned, it will be recalled, Cagney was outside the pale of the law, and in the other he was a vigorous agent of law enforcement. The comparison is interesting because in "The Oklahoma Kid" he is depicted as alternately on both sides of the fence.

At the outset of the story he is a bandit but not just a conscienceless robber and killer. He is an adventurous youth who has become a sort of Robin Hood of the Southwest. Eventually he is, in effect, enlisted on the side of law and order, although he has really taken the law into his own hands. However, he performs a necessary service of public vengeance so bravely and so completely that he is forgiven all his past misdeeds.

Rosemary Lane, lovely and vivacious brunette, plays the romantic lead opposite Cagney—and it is no milk-and-sugar heroine that this flashing-eyed member of the acting Lane family plays—but a real girl of the old West. Humphrey Bogart, ace bad man, furthers his screen reputation, playing the leader of a band of "Sooners" who are really a gang of treacherous gunmen. In the story he is a deadly foe of the "Oklahoma Kid." Among the many stirring scenes in "The Oklahoma Kid" is the land rush with which the picture opens. Land-hungry pioneers are lined up for miles waiting for the Federal Troops to give the signal that the new territory in Oklahoma is opened for settlement. They camp for the night and to while away the hours they have a big square dance, a huge colorful scene that will cause the years to roll back for many folks.

Other members of the cast besides Cagney and Bogart and Miss Lane, include Donald Crisp, Harvey Stephens, Hugh Sothorn, Charles Middleton, Edward Pawley, Ward Bond, Lew Harvey, John Miljan and Trevor Bardette.

The production was directed by

Lloyd Bacon from a screen play based by Warren Duff, Robert Buckner and Edward E. Paramore on an original story by Paramore and Whally Klein.

Two determined men pitted against each other in a deadly struggle of brawn against brains, within a steel-walled world surrounded by treacherous high seas—that's RKO Radio's "Pacific Liner," gripping drama of unleashed passions which is coming to the Cameron Theatre next Saturday, May 6.

Virile Victor McLaglen as a two-fisted chief engineer, swaggering dictator of an ocean liner's murky stockhold and Chester Morris as a rugged ship's doctor are co-starred.

Crammed with adventure, romance and conflict, the story unfolds during an ill-fated voyage from Shanghai to San Francisco. Morris ships aboard the S. S. Arcturus as physician in order to be near nurse Wendy Barrie, although his skill with tropical diseases has brought him more lucrative offers. McLaglen accepts the post as chief engineer on the liner because the captain, looking forward to a record-breaking run, wants the only man who holds the throbs of a ship's engine more important than the pulse beats of his motley crew.

It is inevitable that the two strong-willed men should clash, especially when the hard-boiled engineer takes too great an interest in the pretty nurse. The conflict becomes further aggravated when a strange epidemic breaks out, concentrating itself below deck among the grimy members of the engine and fire rooms where the chief engineer rules so tyrannically.

From this point on the drama and suspense of the story reach spectacular heights, with the doctor and nurse striving desperately to halt the spread of the malady, and the chief engineer struggling to keep the engine running in the face of hysteria among the fast diminishing survivors. How the stockhold tyrant finally succumbs to the disease himself, thus precipitating a near mutiny among his men, and how the physician saves his life and wins the girl are events leading to the film's smashing climax.

In addition to the principals, other important roles are played by Barry Fitzgerald, as a good natured "wiper;" Alan Hale as a pugnacious fireman and Allan Lane.

Lew Landers directed "Pacific Liner," which was produced by Robert Sisk from a screen play by John Twist.

J. H. Barnes of Buckholts visited at The Herald office Saturday and renewed his subscription for another year. Mr. Barnes has been a subscriber to The Herald for the past several years and says it is his favorite county newspaper.

Willard Chapman of San Gabriel was a business visitor here Saturday. He had his address changed from San Gabriel to Thorndale, Rt. 1, to be effective after May 1, after which time the route out of San Gabriel will be discontinued.

Commercial Row

a success of any undertaking one must have a goal toward which to work and the ability to stay and keep giving of oneself to the business.

Ray Burke is a native of Milam county. He was born in the Ad Hall community and later moved with his parents to the state of Oklahoma. While still a boy he moved with his family back to Texas where they settled at Ballinger. In Ballinger he attended high school and worked in five and ten cent stores on Saturdays and holidays, at a salary of fifty cents per day.

In 1912 Mr. Burke moved to Cameron where he was employed with the Cheeves Bros. Store for the succeeding six years. Later he became manager of the Duke & Ayres Store where he worked for sixteen years. When Duke & Ayres wanted to transfer Mr. Burke to another city, he resigned his position and went into business for himself, because he owned his home here and did not wish to move away.

The first location of the Burke's 5c to $1 Store was next to the Hickman & Bailey grocery where business was transacted for three years. On May 1, 1937 they opened their business in their new location between the Schiller Drug Store and Chas F. Green Grocery. The new building is thirty feet wide and one hundred and ten feet long, has fixtures valued at three thousand dollars and is stocked with a complete line of variety merchandise. Upstairs over the storage room, Mr. Burke has his office. Here it is possible to obtain a full view of the store which is necessary to fully appreciate the display arrangement of the merchandise.

Asked what he thought of Cameron as a commercial center, Mr. Burke said, "Cameron is as good a commercial center as we have anywhere in the State of Texas depending entirely on farm and dairy products, and I thought enough of its possibilities to quit a manager's job and go into business for myself." Mr. Burke said that usually rural towns were good locations for five and ten cent stores and that his volume of business had increased from year to year.

In addition to his store here, Mr. Burke owns a Burke's 5c to $1 Store in Hearne which was opened in Sept. 1938. Prior to the opening of the Hearne store, he operated a store in Lott. In February 1937 he sold the store at Lott to Vernon Roberts who also owned several variety stores. At present Mr. Burke employs four regular sales clerks who by their efficiency and courtesy toward the public contribute to the success of the business.

In this issue of The Herald appears a large display advertisement pointing out some of the many values that are offered each year during anniversary week.

Over at Cheeves Brothers store the regular First Monday Dollar Sale is getting a great deal of attention.

The store is featuring its usual galaxy of bargains for the first date sale. Last week the spring opening sale saw many customers buying the new things for spring and summer. The first Monday Dollar Days are always good opportunity sales.

Merchandising in Cameron this week becomes one of the more important developments of the year along Commercial Row. Food buyers will give B. F. Stewart a big hand this week. He takes a page in The Herald to tell about the big sale to run through Friday and Saturday and Monday May 1. Special prices are the order of the day in this sale. Merchandise has been stacked high for this event. It is the pre-summer sale by Mr. Stewart long a leading food merchant in Cameron. The message goes to thousands of readers this week.

On Trial Preview
At Cameron Saturday

"On Trial" the Warner Bros. screen version of the play which established Elmer Rice as one of the foremost dramatists of our time, comes to the Cameron Theatre next Saturday with a cast headed by Margaret Lindsay and John Litel.

A technical device used by the playwright and carried out to perfection in the film production is that of the "cutback." The picture opens in a courtroom, where John Litel is "On Trial" for murder of a business associate. As each witness comes to the stand and tells his or her story, the scene changes abruptly and the testimony of the witness is re-enacted graphically for the spectator.

With or without that technical device, however, the basic story of "On Trial" would still be interesting and melodramatically exciting, for it is an engrossing tale of mystery, pathos and stark drama. And the screen version, as written by Don Ryan, keeps the solution of the mystery well masked until the final denouement.

The first mysterious angle is why the man on trial for his life makes so little effort to defend himself that he seems to be almost eager to be convicted without any further ado.

As the story unfolds, the audience learns from the lips of little Janet Chapman, daughter of Litel, that before going to the murdered man's home, Litel had quarrelled with her mother, played by Margaret Lindsay, and that the name of the murdered man had been mentioned in the quarrel.

The whole case hinges upon the testimony of the suspects wife, but she has been missing ever since the time of the murder. Edward Norris the young defense lawyer suddenly produces her, and she tells a story that makes all but one of the jurors willing to acquit Litel on the basis of the "unwritten law." The film continues to smash climax which should make "On Trial" one of the most talked of films this year.

In addition to Litel, Norris, Stephenson and the Misses Lindsay and Chapman, others prominent in the cast include Nedda Harrigan, Larry Williams, William Davidson, Earl Dwire, Gordon Hart, Charles Trowbridge, and Vera Lewis. The production was directed by Terry Morse.

LUTHERANS HOLD MEETING AT MASON

Rev. A. E. Flathmann and Herbert Junmann, delegates who represented the Buckholts-Kileen Lutheran Congregations at last week's annual convention of the Texas District of the American Lutheran Church which was held at Mason, stated upon their return that the reports on the past year's work throughout the American Lutheran Church were encouraging and denoted progress in all branches of the Church's work. In Texas, three congregations, Grace Lutheran of Eagle Lake, St. Peter's of Prairie Valley and First Lutheran of Luling, were admitted to membership, five pastors, the Revs. W. G. Tillmanns of Clifton, Edmund Heye of La Marque, M. S. Fruch of Ganado, J. F. Holm of Blanco and J. A. Pietsch of Stockdale were added to the clerical roster.

The convention represented congregations throughout the State of Texas, as also congregations in Louisiana, Alabama and Arkansas. The Church's extended endeavors in the Home Mission Fields throughout the United States and Canada, in its Colored and Mexican Missions in the South, in its Foreign or World Missions in India and New Guinea, in its Educational Institutions, Colleges and Seminaries, in its Parish Educational programs, and in its Eleemosynary Institutions, (Orphan and Old Folks Homes and Hospitals,) all give evidence of the Lord's blessings. Located in Texas are several of these institutions, the Texas Lutheran College at Seguin, Grace Lutheran Sanatorium for treatment of Tubercular patients at San Antonio, and Trinity Lutheran Home for Orphans and Old Folks at Round Rock.

Next year, 1940, will mark the Tenth Anniversary of the American Lutheran Church, which was merged in 1930 from three separate Lutheran church bodies. Jubilee services will be held throughout the Church, including the Texas District. The Jubilee Program will stress development of spiritual life and evangelistic activity in the congregations, and will include the gathering of a Forward Fund for the liquidation of all indebtedness of the Church's institutions and for the general promotion of its work.

A series of addresses by various speakers were delivered on the Activities and Duties and Influence of the Home on Community, Church and State. Next year's convention has been invited by the Lutheran church and the Chamber of Commerce of Fredericksburg to meet in that city.

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Who is a God like unto thee, that pardoneth iniquity, and passeth by the transgression of the remnant of his heritage? . . . He will turn again, he will have compassion upon us; he will subdue our iniquities; and thou wilt cast all their sins into the depths of the sea." (Mic. 7:18, 19.)

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The pardon of divine mercy is the destruction of error." (page 329.)

BRYANT STATION H. D. CLUB

"Plan for the food needed by the family during the weeks when you will not have fresh vegetables and fruits. This can be done only by having a family food preservation budget. For a correct diet every person should eat some kind of green or yellow vegetables daily. Health and freshness comes in. If preserved correctly vegetables canned are as good as fresh ones," Miss Dorothy Porter told the Bryant Station Club which met April the 17th at the home of Mrs. Louis Abel.

The agent also spoke on how to improve our egg market. Only clean uniform eggs should be put on the market. In order to produce uniform eggs a balanced ration and plenty of clean water should be given chickens. Eggs should be kept in a cool place. From 40 to 56 degrees Fahrenheit is correct temperature for eggs to be kept.

Mrs. G. H. Beckhausen, club president presided at the short business session preceding Miss Porter's talk.

Refreshments were served to nine members and two visitors, Mrs. Albert Langer and Mrs. Edwin Fischer. The next meeting will be April 27, with Miss Ellen Neal as hostess. All interested people are welcome.

Yoe High School on which will be engraved annually the names of the boys and girls who have made outstanding records of attendance. We desire to commend excellence and achievement. We want to honor achievement wherever it may be found among our youth. We have an appreciation for the faithfulness of young people who are consistent over a period of years in being at their places of work daily. Here at Yoe High School may be seen the names of those who have achieved for many many years. Your own names may be here and the names perhaps of your own children may be seen on this plaque in years to come." The speaker continued:

"And to the boy or girl who achieves the best record of attendance in Yoe High School over four years of undergraduate work will be given this attractive trophy from the Lions Club, the statue of 'Achievement' Your name will be in the halls of Yoe High for years to come and this trophy will always be an inspiration to you."

Superintendent E. A. Perrin received the plaque in behalf of the Cameron School Board. The "Achievement" statue will be presented by the Lions Club at the Commencement exercises. The award will be made annually.

dition would be a sorry sight in such abjectness of impotency.

But does it not make your blood pound within your arteries to hear a drug store hillbilly whine the bing-bang ballad about the Alamo by way of theme song to an incitement to the aged to become paupers in the name of social security?

Is this the strength of Texas—the strength of the itching palm? Are the sons of freedom such pining sons that parents after the flesh must feed at the public trough, uncared for by their own children? The call of 1836 was for patriotism. The call of 1939 is for an appropriation.

Beautiful Texas

Citizens of Texas, have we lost the sturdy soul-stuff that dwelt within the men of San Jacinto? Has the unconquerable courage of pioneer cabins seeped away from modern life? Have the courtiers of hardship and the husbandmen of thrift begotten a race of whipped snivellers and begging hangers-on?

See how our day is begirt with doubt and bedraggled with defeat. Enterprise is under guard as a dangerous thing, self-reliance is suspect and manhood itself has been placed in ward. Is it true that men died to bequeath us freedom—and that we have inherited no more than a habit of holding out empty hands?

Men died for freedom—and legislators hesitate to vote their own minds. Men died for freedom—and our leaders trade votes for pork. Men died for freedom—and millions of us are scrambling to get free money borrowed from the unborn of posterity. Men died, gasping, retching, writhing, choking in the poured-out fountain of their life-flow—and we reckon security in terms of thirty pieces of silver.

And this, men and women of 1939, is Beautiful Texas.

PROCLAMATION BY THE MAYOR OF THE CITY OF CAMERON

Southern Women Eager to Tell!

"One is bound to be gratified by the enthusiasm of Southern women for CARDUI!" says one of the Touring Reporters now conducting a Query in Southern cities.

"Of the 1297 CARDUI users we have seen so far," she said, "1206—or 93 out of every 100—said it definitely benefitted them!"

CARDUI's remarkable success in helping weak, rundown women who suffer from headache, depression, nervousness, and other symptoms of functional dysmenorrhea due to malnutrition, is explained by the way it promotes appetite and digestion, and so builds physical resistance. Try CARDUI!

Ideal Hatchery & Poultry FarmA Sixteen Year Plan That Covers a Lifetime

Here is how the plan works. If death occurs during the first sixteen years after issuance of the policy, the beneficiary will receive a $10 monthly income for the next sixteen years (total of $1920.) At the end of this sixteen years the beneficiary will receive $1000, which will be paid either in a lump sum or on a monthly income plan according to the wishes of the insured.

This makes a total of $2920 this plan will pay if death occurs during the first sixteen years.

This plan also pays liberal dividends and if the dividends are left with the company to accumulate with interest then in later years when retirement age has been reached the accumulated value of these dividends may be added to the cash value of the policy as a retirement fund.

Mr. A. V. Wokaty of the Great Southern Life Insurance Company will be glad to explain to you how this plan will help you solve your problems, and you will be surprised at the reasonableness of the premium deposit required.
